BREWERY TAPS UNIQUE EMPLOYEE RESOURCE

The Hop and Barrel Brewing Co., located in the heart of Hudson, is a fun place where people gather to enjoy some great craft beers. Bright and early three mornings a week, Nathaniel Johnson is hard at work getting the taproom cleaned up and ready to go for today's guests. Co-Owners Justin Terbeest and Brian Priefer appreciate his dependability and attention to detail.

With Wisconsin's current unemployment rate hovering around three percent, businesses in all sectors often find it challenging to hire enough qualified workers to keep their operations running smoothly.

That's why Brian and Justin say it was great when Nathaniel Johnson applied for and was hired for their part-time janitorial position just two weeks before the brewery opened at the end of 2017. Nathaniel says he loves his work at this "small brewery with big plans for craft beer."

"Nathaniel has a great work ethic and we love having him here," said Brian. "He is an important member of our team. One time, we had a surprise health inspection and were told that our place is cleaner than the cleanest restaurants he had ever seen. We have Nathaniel to thank for that."
